

Figure 6.3: Correct and Incorrect Seatbelt Use Page 1 of 1

This person is wearing the seatbelt correctly.

- a) lap belt low and snug across the hips
- b) shoulder belt over the shoulder and across the chest

This person is not wearing the seatbelt correctly!

- a) severe injury to the liver and spleen may result
- b) increased chance of head and neck injury
- c) too much collision force is applied to the ribs

Never wear the shoulder belt under your arm!

This person is not wearing the seatbelt correctly!

- a) in a crash you would move forward too much
- b) possible facial injury from striking the steering wheel or dashboard
- c) decreased airbag effectiveness

The shoulder belt should fit against your body!

This person is not wearing the seatbelt correctly!

- a) the full width of the belt is required to spread the collision forces across the body

Never wear a twisted belt!